

SPERRY LOCKE
ACTS AS HOSTProgressives Are Given a Banquet at Concord by a Portsmouth Man.

The following dispatch from Concord under the date of January 15th is of local interest: "Progressive legislators at the state capital and a number of newspaper writers received telegraphic invitations, this morning, to attend a banquet to be given at the Eagle hotel, this evening at 8 o'clock, in honor of the progressive representatives and senators of the New Hampshire legislature. The invitations were signed by Sperry H. Locke, chairman.

"In response to the invitation about fifty gathered at the Eagle tonight and partook of one of Landford Pei-ren's best suppers.

"There was no political significance to the gathering, the banquet being given by Mr. Locke as a celebration of the fact that he recently purchased a Dover newspaper and will use the same as a Progressive organ.

"William Savacool of Manchester acted as toastmaster and Rev. Thomas Chalmers was the chief speaker. He spoke at length on 'Progressive Principles.' Other speakers were: Prof.
Forrest B. Cardullo of New Hampshire State College, State Auditor
Frank A. Musgrove and Public Service Commissioner Edward C. Niles.
The speaking continued from 9 to 11:30 p. m."

POLICE GET
THE BANDITDaring Attempt at a Daylight Holdup
in a Boston Railroad Ticket Office

Boston, Jan. 15.—The lone bandit who has held up half a dozen railroad ticket offices in New York and Pennsylvania in the course of the past month was captured in this city today,
the police believe, when William J.
Clayton, a young six-footer, submitted to arrest while sitting in a barber's chair. Clayton, according to the police, dashed into the barber shop and hurriedly seated himself in a chair when a score of pursuers were almost at his heels after chasing him through half a mile of city streets following an attempted daylight robbery.

A diary found in one of Clayton's pockets gave what the police believe to be a list of railroad ticket offices robbed with the amounts which each netted. The total amount of the sums mentioned was $1668. The police also found $29 in cash and more than $1000 in Wells-Fargo money orders in Clayton's possession.

The attempted robbery here occurred at the ticket office of the Boston & Maine railroad on Washington street this afternoon when a man who had just purchased a ticket for Pittsfield, suddenly pointed a revolver at Cashier George Hacker, ordering him to give up all the money he had. Hacker was slow in complying and the stranger flourished the revolver again and ordered every person in the office to get into a corner indicated. All complied except George Titcomb, a railroad ticket agent who had just entered. The bandit had vaulted over the counter to secure the contents of the cash drawer when he saw Titcomb rush out the door. Instantly the bandit went over the counter again without securing and money and dashed into the street, with the office force after him.

Then followed a lively chase through the busiest streets of the city, the officers who joined the pursuers not daring to fire at the fugitive because of the crowds. Thinking apparently that he had not been seen the man bolted into a summer street barber shop. He had just ordered a "shave, quick," after throwing his overcoat and hat to one side, when Police Officer Jacobs entered and demanded his surrender.
The stranger offered no resistance. He is apparently about 25 years old.

The attempt at robbery was made in broad daylight, in a store with a broad glass exposure and on a street where a police officer is always stationed.
Thousands of persons pass the ticket office daily.

Clayton confessed tonight, police officers said, to the robberies which he had noted in his diary. In his statement to the police, Clayton is claimed by them to have detailed his hold-ups, mentioning one in Cleveland on Jan.
10, which his diary referred to as having taken place in Philadelphia.

An officer attached to the local artillery district tonight identified the prisoner as William J. Monague, who he said deserted from Fort Banks, Winthrop, Mass., two years ago. His home was in Yuma, Ariz.

Castro Committed Crime
Which Involved Moral Turpitude.

New York, Jan. 15.—Gen. Don Cipriano Castro, former president of Venezuela, who has been detained at Ellis Island by the immigration officials for more than two weeks, today was denied admission to the United States by a special board of inquiry on the ground that in his examination he had admitted "the commission of a crime and felony involving moral turpitude."

In a statement issued by Commissioner of Immigration Williams giving the first explanation for the detention of Castro and setting forth the findings of the board, it is charged that the former president of Venezuela
"has committed frequent perjury," by pretending "to be ignorant of matters concerning which a man of his intelligence and holding the position which he did, undoubtedly possesses knowledge."

Immediately after the announcement that he would not be permitted to enter the country, Castro declared that he would appeal to the secretary of commerce and labor, Harold A.
Content, acting for George Gordon Battis, Castro's attorney, said that, in the event of Secretary Nagel upholding the finding of the board, the case would be taken into the courts for a decision.

RAILROAD NOTES

Complaints have reached the offices of the Boston and Maine
through the railroad commissioners, against loud whistling by locomotives
at Andover, Ballardvale and Lowell.
The railroad has issued orders instructing engineers on this matter.

Commencing on Wednesday and continuing until further notice, the American Express Company will operate their Gloucester via Boston, Chicago and Cincinnati cars from North station over the Pittsburg road, using a four trip car between Boston and Gloucester.

The Boston & Maine road inaugurated today for H. P. Hood & Co., through milk car service between Sawyers, N. H., and Bemis, Mass., via Boston.

Beginning today the Wellsboro and Boston train leaving here at 8.10 a. m.
will take on 300 cans of milk at Greenland and North Hampton for Lynn.

Boston contractors are at work on a new newstand for the Armstrong
Co. at the railroad station in Concord.
During the eight years Mr. Powell has been in charge there the business has grown to such proportions that expansion was bound to come, consequently he is having a much larger stand built which, when finished, and set up with all the new modern improvements will be one of the neatest up to date stands on the B. & M. system.

GLOOM IN THEIR HEARTS.

Every winter for the past thirty or more years, a large vacant lot located at the corner of Madison and Lovell streets, now the property of Christ church, but separated from the same by a street, has furnished excellent skating. The land is low, so that recent rains have flooded a large portion of it, making perfect ice over a surface fifty feet wide and 100 feet long, where a great number of small children have daily enjoyed themselves with the harmless and healthful recreation of skating with no risk.

Now, however, gloom has set in the hearts of the youngsters, for their favorite skating place has been malicious-ly ruined by the sprinkling of elvers and ashes over the entire surface.

How any one can deprive the children of such innocent pleasure and healthful exercise, is a puzzle to the parents of all concerned.

The question is, who has committed this rude act, inconsistent with the good principles of Christianity?

his years are more active than Mr.
Hayes.

The supper last evening at the Second Methodist church under the auspices of the Ladies Aid society was a very successful affair, both financially and socially. The attendance was large, as the topic of the supper of this society is known far and near. The menu comprised baked beans, coffee, cake, assorted cakes and pies, coffee, etc., to which all did ample justice.

Following the supper came a social hour and entertainment, which comprised the following: "The Old Maid's Lament," by the Old Maid's quartet; "When I Shovel in the Coal," by the men's quartet. In the first number the young ladies were appropriately dressed in costumes of from 35 to 40 years ago. Miss Allen Clough wearing her mother's wedding dress, on which was a beautiful lace collar. Mrs. Elmer Hall was chairman of the supper committee.

A MIXED UP AFFAIR.

Well Known Young Man Leaves City in a Hurry.

Reports of a "badger game" being attempted at a hotel on Wednesday evening have been in circulation today, but the police are not disposed to credit it, as their investigation shows that it was pure of a drunken frolic on the part of the parties concerned than anything else. As the result of the mix up, a well known young man, who has been employed as a waiter at the hotel, has left for parts unknown, and a woman who calls herself Marie Dempsy is held at the police station on the charge of street walking. The other members of the trio, a man, is at liberty.

JUST A STARTER.

CASCARETS CLEANSE LIVER AND BOWELS

Cascaret Users Never Have Headache, Constipation, or Sick Stomach.

It is more necessary than you keep your bowels, liver and stomach clean, pure and fresh than it is to keep the sewers and drainage of a large city free from obstruction.

Are you keeping clean inside with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passage every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system the constipated waste matter and poison in the intestines and bowels.

No odds how badly and upset you feel, a Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from your druggist will keep your head clear, stomach sweet and your liver and bowels regular for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

BATTLED FOR SIX HOURS

Keeper of Boone Island Light Had Exciting Voyage

Mitchell Blackwood, keeper of the Boone Island light, nine miles off the Maine coast at York Harbor, went through seven hours of exciting experiences in order to reach the mainland and attend the recent meeting of Portsmouth Lodge of Elks, of which he is a member.

The running gear of Blackwood's power boat broke shortly after he left the ocean beacon to safe navigation and for six hours he battled against the winds and a high sea in his effort to reach the mainland. At the Elks' home last night he showed hands that were bruised and swollen from the tough task of rowing a crippled 20-foot powerboat for six hours.

Shortly after Blackwood left the light house the engine began to skip. Finally the engine went completely out of order. An off-shore wind threatened to blow him out to sea. He placed temporary repairs in the boat and with a pair of 14-foot oars he rowed for six hours in the finally successful effort to reach the mainland, about eight miles north of the point at which the motor was broken.

TIME TO BE REASONABLE

Pres. Hadley of Yale says America may loose its greatness if temper shown by recent unreasonable attacks on railroads is not changed.

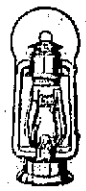

"In our endeavors to control corporations we too often try to lessen their efficiency. We are appalled by one railroad accident and we suggest that every engine should have two engineers instead of one. A fast train runs off the track and a government officer suggests that people ought not to want to travel so fast. A people that believes in divided responsibility and waste of time has no future. Germany will be only too glad to get ahead of us. We shall deal with the problem of corporate regulation more effectively if we are willing to appreciate efficient service. Also we must develop technical training in which Germany has been so successful."

ARMY RECRUITS FEWER UNDER NEW LAW

Although complete figures for an extended period are not yet available preliminary tables compiled at the office of the Adjutant General of the Army indicate a considerable falling off in enlistments and reenlistments at recruits under the new law which lengthens the term of service. Under the present law recruits are enlisted for seven years, of which four years are to be spent with the colors and the remaining three years in reserve. Major General Leonard Wood, chief of staff of the army, who favors the establishment of an army reserve by requiring a longer period of service with the colors, to be followed by the transfer of enlisted men to the reserve, points out that the large average shortage of 6350, or 7.8 per cent in the enlisted strength of the army, indicates very clearly the difficulty which has been experienced in finding suitable recruits, even under the three-year period of enlistment which was in force up to Nov. 1 last.

"The effect of the lengthened period cannot as yet be foreseen," says General Wood, but that it will not make recruiting easier is evident."

Complete reports from recruit depots and depot posts for the month of November, the first month under the new law, show enlistments and reenlistments to have been 1267, a falling off of 1029 as compared with November 1911. The total number for October, 1912, was 1688. These comparisons show a falling off of about 60 per cent for November, 1911, and about 25 per cent for November, 1912, as compared with October, 1912.

RAILROAD NOTES

It is now whispered in railroad circles that another holdup has been made in the supplementary time table that was to be issued this month.

Mr. Conn's resignation is effective Feb. 1. Mr. Conn is the son of Dr. Greenville L. Conn of Concord, N. H.

THE PARCELS POST.

Department Sends Out Some Amended Regulations to Postmasters.

The following order in amendment of the parcel post regulations, has been received at the local postoffice from the department in Washington: Printed matter relative to an article of merchandise which it accompanies is regarded as descriptive of the article within the meaning of section 455, postal laws and regulations and therefore is a permissible enclosure with such article when mailed as fourth class matter.

Printing on an article of merchandise, or on its wrapper, or on a label pasted to it in such manner as to form an integral part of it, does not affect the classification of the article as mail matter of the fourth class.

Catalogues in which two or more order forms are bound, as well as catalogues or other printed matter having samples of merchandise permanently attached to them, may be accepted for mailing at the fourth-class rate of postage.

Order forms, address tags, report forms, letter and bill heads, insurance and legal forms, cards and other similar supplies, regardless of the amount of printing upon them, blank check books, receipt books, and other books of forms, partially in print, may be mailed as fourth-class matter.

Directions for taking medicine written on a label attached to a bottle or package containing the medicine, or enclosed with it, are permissible and do not affect the classification of the parcel.

Doan's Regents are recommended by many who say they operate easily, without gripping and without bad after effects. 25c at all drug stores.

ROOFINGNO CHOICE FOR SENATOR
ON THE SECOND BALLOTHollis Lost Five From First Vote--
Lacks Eleven of Election--Secretary
Pearson Re-Elected.

Concord, N. H., Jan. 14.—When the joint convention of the New Hampshire Legislature met at noon today for the purpose of comparing the journals of both Houses giving the votes cast yesterday for United States Senator, the leading candidates for Senator, and their lieutenants were all on hand and occupied seats in the rear of the chamber directing their forces.

The Democratic candidate, Henry F. Hollis, who lacks but seven votes, said just before the ballot was taken that he confidently expected to be elected on the first ballot. The Republican leaders declared that they were assured that Hollis will not get as many votes today as he received yesterday.

Progressive leaders said that they did not look for any break today in their ranks.

Shortly after 12 o'clock the Senate came in and joined the House members in joint session and at 12.30 p. m., the calling of the roll was begun, the Senate leading off. There was no change in the Senate vote from yesterday when Henry F. Hollis, the Democratic candidate, received 11 votes, Henry B. Quincy, one of the Republican candidates, 9; Frank P. Carpenter, Dem., 1, and Clarence E. Carr, another Democrat, 1. Senator J. W. Pearson, Republican, and Senator Beal voted for Carr.

Representative Clark of Portsmouth today voted for John W. Kelly of Portsmouth, adding one more to the list of Republican candidates.

Speaker Britton, who did not vote yesterday, cast his vote for Robert P. Bass today.

The first break in the Hollis forces occurred when Representative Smiley of Sutton, Merrimack County, voted for Clarence E. Carr of Andover.

There was no choice for Senator and the convention proceeded with the election of Secretary of State, State Treasurer and Commissary General.

The first ballot in the joint convention resulted as follows: Whole number votes cast, 412; necessary for a choice, 210. Henry F. Hollis, Democrat, 109; Henry B. Quincy, Republican, 58; Sherman E. Burroughs, Republican, 22; Robert P. Bass, Progressive, 18; Carr, 3; Thomas Chalmers, Republican, 2; Frank P. Carpenter, Democrat, 2; Samuel W. Emery, Republican, 1; John W. Kelly, Republican, 1; Charles E. Pearson, Republican, 1; Henry T. Ledoux, Democrat, 1.

Henry F. Hollis lost five from his vote of yesterday. Quincy received the same, Pillsbury gained 3, Burroughs 15, Bass 3, Chalmers 1 and Carr 1.

Edward N. Pearson, William H. Kimball of Stratford were re-elected Secretary of State and Commissary General, respectively.

Following the election of a Secretary of State and Commissary General each by the casting of one ballot, a general ballot was taken for State Treasurer, resulting in the election of George E. Farrand, Dem., of this city, defeating Solon A. Carter, Rep., who has held the office 37 years, consecutively. The ballot was as follows: Whole number cast, 411; necessary for a choice, 206. Solon A. Carter, 193, George E. Farrand, 218.

Democratic leaders said after the vote today that it looked doubtful about electing a Senator this week, and it was out of the question unless some of the Progressives or Republicans go to Hollis, the Democratic candidate, on the first ballot tomorrow.

Two Democrats got away from the Hollis camp today, Smiley of Sutton, who voted for Carr, and Jannell of Manchester, who voted for Ledoux of Manchester. There were five pairs in all.

Republican leaders profess to be more confident than ever in their ability to stop Hollis, and they claim that there was a chance of combining with the Progressives and electing a Progressive Republican. They admit that the chances of electing a straight out Republican are slim.

Hollis however, is not discouraged and says that things are going along just as he had suspected they would before the balloting started.

Some of the members of the Legislature think that the fight is going to be a prolonged one, and the suggestion is heard that if the Democrats find they cannot put Hollis over they will turn to Chairman Jameson of the Democratic State Committee.

The house did not open until 11.30 Wed. morning, and but little business was done before the Senate came in at noon in joint convention. At the opening of the house the governor and council and the senators came in and listened to the prayer by the Rev. A. Francis Welch of Manchester, who was yesterday elected chaplain.

The first committee report came in this morning from the committee on revision of the statutes. They reported on house bill No. 35, relating to bribery in elections, and house bill No. 23, relating to treason and imprisonment. Both were reported favorably.

Among the bills of interest introduced in the house were the following: Resolution to allow $1800 to Abraham L. Davis to publish a book known as the "Official Guide of New Hampshire, the Switzerland of America." It is particularly in the interest of the mountain and lake resorts.

House bills were introduced as follows:

Rancour of Nashua: To compel ice dealers to sell ice to all persons demanding it. This is to stop the practice of ice dealers of refusing to sell to persons not their regular customers.

Eastman of Exeter: To allow voters to vote in their own ward for one year after moving, instead of for six months only.

Demers of Manchester: Making 50 hours a week the limit for women and minors in factories.

Penley of Enfield: To exempt cattle from taxation, up to the age of two years. The age limit now is 18 months, and it is claimed that farmers are killing off their young stock to avoid taxation.

Demerit of Durham: To appropriate $30,000 for a new building for the engineering department at the state college.

Curtis of Concord: To open the Merrimack river to ice fishing.

Perkins of Nottingham: To repeal the law providing for the registration of resident hunters.

Smith of Berlin: To allow peaceful communication with applicants for positions during strikes lockouts and labor troubles.

Stannahan of Manchester: To repeal the hedgehog bounty act.

Heching, torturing skin eruptions, disfigure, annoy, drive one wild. Doan's Ointment is praised for its good work. 50 cents at all drug stores.

"FOR PORTSMOUTH AND PORTSMOUTH'S INTERESTS."

Portsmouth, N. H., Thursday, January 16, 1913.

Morgan's Most Potent Ally.

That the most potent ally of J. Pierpont Morgan in finance is George F. Baker is perhaps truer today than when I made this statement here a year or two ago. The close association between the two financiers is one that has existed for nearly a quarter of a century without becoming a matter of general knowledge. Morgan has a very high regard for the abilities of the maker of the great financial institution at the corner of Wall street and Broadway. I believe there has never been a great crisis in affairs that he did not welcome the counsel and advice of George F. Baker.

The presiding genius of the First National Bank, like Morgan himself, is one of the most reticent of men. The times he has given his financial views for publication can be counted on the fingers of one hand. On Thursday and Friday, at the "money trust" hearing before the Pujo committee in Washington, he said more for the newspapers than in his entire career of over 40 years in Wall street. Baker has always worked in silence. He has proceeded quietly, but has succeeded prodigiously.

If Morgan is the country's premier private banker, which he is, Baker is its most successful national banker and having prospered amazingly is today one of the richest of America's ultra rich men. Foundationed primarily in banking, the Baker fortune has been swelled rapidly in the last 20 years by shrewd investment, lucrative speculations and participation—with his friend J. Pierpont Morgan—insecurity flotations and underwriting. Naturally, he is a director in the principal Morgan corporations, including the Steel trust, the New Haven railroad, Southern railway and Northern Pacific. He, as the great financier's ally, was a powerful though personally unobtrusive factor in the famous Northern Securities merger and is today a member of the directorate of the board of that virtually defunct concern.

In the colossal struggle for control of Northern Pacific in May, 1901, he was one of the three or four money lords whose loyalty did so much towards giving Morgan victory. Baker is said to be worth a quarter of a billion, but there are men who know much about such matters who declare he is richer by a hundred millions! However that may be, there are very few gill-edged corporations in the United States in which he is not an investment owner.

In most of such, indeed, he is interested heavily. His official lies tell the story. He is a director and one of the biggest stockholders in Consolidated Gas and Delaware, Lackawanna & Western and I understand he looks upon the former as one of the best properties in the world. He is also a director of the Reading, the Erie, the Burlington and the Lehigh Valley. The principal industrial companies in whose boards he sits are the United States Steel, American Telephone & Telegraph Co. and the Pullman Car Co. His more important bank and trust company directorships, exclusive of the First National, are in the Chase National, the National Bank of Commerce, the Guaranty Trust, the Farmers Loan & Trust and the First National bank of Chicago.—Boston News Bureau.

The Overhanging Sign.

If the owner of a fine estate allowed neighbors to string flaring signs across his walks and drives to advertise their own private business, people would think him crazy. But that is what the city of Chicago does, every day in the year. The streets and walks belong to the city, to the people. But across these walks an electrical monopoly has hung garish signs of every description, advertising everything from bunny hug vaudeville to fusel oil cocktails. These "special license" monstrosities offend the view everywhere. They do more to deface the city than a hundred parks and boulevards can do to adorn it. The overhanging sign is a nuisance. It is also the visible mark of a grafting "special license" to violate building ordinances. It profits no one but the electrical monopoly. Get rid of the overhanging sign.—Chicago Journal.

A Fine Chance for President-elect Wilson.

If President Wilson will, from the date of his inaugural, refuse to remove from office men who are doing the country good service, we believe it will establish a precedent that no future president will dare to fly in the face of, and will prove a death blow to the spoils system, which is the cause of much inefficiency and is the means of wasting a considerable part of the immense sum of two and a half billion dollars which this country pays annually for the running of the government. The new president has it in his power to render this great service to his country. Let us hope he is great enough to do it.—Mirror.

Two Pole Discoverers and One Who Blazed The Way But Failed, In Meeting at Lecture.

Photos copyright, 1913, by American Press Association.

From a historical standpoint the meeting arranged for two pole discoverers, and one polar hero who just missed that achievement stands as unique. This unusual event was that planned to bring Captain Amundsen, discoverer of the south pole; Rear Admiral Robert E. Peary, discoverer of the north pole, and Sir Ernest H. Shackleton together on the same platform in Philadelphia as speakers before the Geographical society. Captain Amundsen just now is the leading polar explorer, from the fact that his discovery has been the latest. He is having his turn at lecturing and receiving the plaudits of the world. Just as Rear Admiral Peary had some time ago. Sir Ernest Shackleton shares in the honor of the south pole discovery, because he really blazed the way for the captain. Sir Ernest came within ninety-seven miles of the pole, when he was forced to turn back because of the lack of food. The above pictures show Sir Ernest Shackleton in the upper right hand corner and Rear Admiral Peary directly below, with Captain Amundsen at the left. A polar scene is shown at the upper left.

Parcel Post and Country Life

One feature of the parcel post on which it seems emphasis has not been laid is that it is another step toward blotting out rural isolation. It is one more means of bringing the countrymen into closer contact with the city man and with city ways. A tendency has been very strongly this way for a quarter of a century, and its results have been so obvious that the countryman who a while ago in his hair and a straw in his mouth is rarely seen outside of old homesteads and some supplements.

The steam railroad penetrated into country districts, and the electric car has brought a vast farm area into touch with the city. A few minutes ride brings a man from pastoral to metropolitan scenes and from quiet rural lanes into busy, thrashing streets. It also takes a city man quickly from the great area of asphalt, artificial shade, and brick to green turf, yellow clay and sandy stretches. The opening up process goes on at both ends.

The telephone brings city and country within speaking distance of each other, and telephone wires strung along roads through woods and over fields and meadows have done much to bring from the country that dull isolation which was such a frequent complaint against country life. Operating to this end with the telephone has been rural free delivery.

There is an agency that has carried the daily newspaper in to the farmhouses and scattered and encouraged the reading habit, prompting people already back on the land to keep step in the procession of the times.

In connection with all these agencies of rural improvements have been better roads, and finally an awakening of everybody in city and country to the manifold and mutual advantages of good roads.

And now the parcel post furnishes another connecting link between town and country.—Washington Star.

Raise Vegetables

It is well that people encourage the vegetable habit, for ominous stories and threatening statistics of cattle shortage are current. If these things are true confirmed meat eaters will have to reform, increase their earning power or go hungry. They will probably increase the grain, fruit, and vegetable components of their ration. It will do no harm because a big meat diet is indispensable. There are many ways to the figures for they are government figures, that since 1899 the population of the United States has increased over 25 per cent, while the supply of beef cattle has declined more than 20 per cent, and

The slaughter of calves has increased 600 per cent.

Argentina one of the great beef producing regions reports a diminishing supply of cattle. Three years of drought have suffered there and the dreaded foot and mouth disease ravaged herds. Cows and heifers were also slaughtered too heavily in order to supply the beef demand of Europe. All this appears to be true, because legislation is pending in Argentina which seeks to limit the number of cattle slaughtered to the probable yearly increase of cows under seven years of age and of cows entirely.

Australian cattle breeding has been hindered by seasons of drought, the cattle industry of Europe has been hindered by revolution and England will probably eat all the beef that Canada can raise. Altogether it is a good thing to keep ones appetite keen for bread, potatoes, beans rice and the like.—Washington Star.

"MUTT AND JEFF."

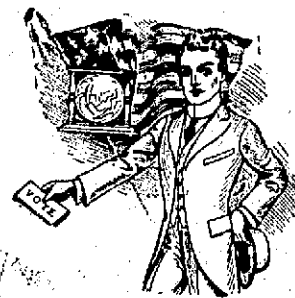

Did you ever realize how much meaning there is in the ordinary expression "Make Good"? Bud Fisher, a cartoonist on the New York American staff, conceived the idea of two eccentric characters whom he called "Mutt and Jeff." At first the pictures created but little comment, but like wine they improved with age. Soon the pictures began to attract the attention of the children, then grown up folks became interested, then doctors, lawyers, brokers and professional men of all sorts found themselves unconsciously opening the American at the funny page to see what new stunt "Mutt and Jeff" were up to. It practically became a disease until not only all of New York but the entire country kept tabs on "Mutt and Jeff" and Fisher's idea was proclaimed the most successful cartoon series in the history of journalism. The father of successful cartoon plays began to sit up and take notice. He quietly secured the stage rights to "Mutt and Jeff" and had a suitable book and music written; rehearsed four companies of forty-five people each in a musical comedy entitled "Mutt and Jeff" and sailed forth to reap the benefit of the most tremendous advertising a play ever had at the hands of the newspapers of America. Did it make good? Well! I should say it did, not only because the cartoons were a success, but because the play as a play, irrespective of the fact of its title being "Mutt and Jeff" was a "hit" from its first performance. It was a hard thing to follow the success of Fisher's cartoon and make good, but that's just what Gus Hill did last season, not only make good with the people but fairly wring the title of the greatest financial success in a quarter of a century from the cold blooded magnates who control theatrical bookings.

"Mutt and Jeff" with the substance which earned all of its success will be at the Portsmouth theatre on Jan. 22. See the play and determine whether it rightfully deserved the success it enjoys.

SLASHED OFFICER.

Man Held at Manchester Claims to Belong Here.

Joseph Antonorech, who claims this city, is held by the police at Manchester charged with an assault on Patrolman James Hackett of that city.

Hackett was slashed with a knife. The affair occurred in a house on Amherst street where Hackett attempted to arrest Mike Peloch.

As Policeman Hackett was making his rounds he heard a commotion in the rear of Amherst street and upon investigating found Peloch entertaining his friend Antonorech. The policeman ordered the noise be stopped, and as he did so he says Antonorech jumped at him, at the same time drawing a long knife from his pocket.

Hackett stepped to one side to avoid the blow, but in doing so was hindered, he claims, by Peloch. Hackett was struck on the side of the head and a long, ugly gash was inflicted by the knife. The officer, however, regained his feet and fought his way to the door.

He then got into communication with Patrolmen Rindan and Brown, and together they again entered the rooms and another tussle followed. Sergt. Lynch and Policemen Sheehy and Bourke cleaned up what was left, taking Antonorech, who was found at 22 Birch street, to the station, where he is charged with assault upon an officer.

A search of the directory and inquiry in the Polish colony of this city failed to locate any such name as Antonorech.

KING ALPHONSO WILL WIN OUT

Madrid, Jan. 15.—In pursuance of his plan to obtain the upholders on various political questions of prominent parliamentarians irrespective of party, King Alfonso received the Republican leader, Senor Azcarate, vice president of the chamber of deputies, with whom he had a long conversation. On leaving the palace Senor Azcarate said: "The king was most charming to me. We discussed social and political questions exclusively and I am just as strong a Republican as before." The Radical leader, Alejandro Lerroux, and the Socialist leader, Pablo Iglesias will be the next prominent parliamentarians to be invited to the palace. These evidences of the liberality of the king have produced a deep and agreeable impression on all classes, notably on the Republicans, whose sympathies for the king are growing. Deputy Melquiades Alvarez, speaking at a great meeting of Republican reformers at Seville, praised the king's attitude in considering public opinion and respecting the constitution. He said: "I, who opposed the monarchist regime, ask your applause for the adversary and invite you to support the monarch while he perseveres in his duty." This sentiment was enthusiastically applauded.

In the course of his conversation with Senor Azcarate, the king expressed great satisfaction at the efforts of certain Republicans to establish closer relations between Spain and Latin-America and remarked that he was considering making a visit to the American Continent. The king also discussed several such questions, concerning which he was very fully informed. He expressed strong approbation of the old traditions and also said that he would insist upon the strictest honesty in elections, the largest religious tolerance and development and improvement in education along liberal lines. In conclusion the king said he considered the attributes of constitutional sovereignty similar to those of the president of a republic. He then asked Senor Azcarate if, in the event of a ministerial crisis, he would advise him to consult the leaders of the Republican and other anti-dynastic parties. Senor Azcarate, somewhat taken aback, reflected for a moment and replied: "On the whole, yes." Whereupon the king announced that henceforth he would do so. By meeting the Republican leader, the king is considered to have brought about a revolution in the Spanish political system in the direction of opening the doors to anti-dynastic parties, the consequences of which it is now impossible to estimate.

Portsmouth Citizens Should Read and Heed This Advice.

Kidney trouble is dangerous and often fatal. Don't experiment with something new and untried.

Use a tested kidney remedy. Begin with Doan's Kidney Pills. Used in kidney troubles 50 years. Recommended here and everywhere. A Portsmouth citizen's statement forms convincing proof.

Leslie Whitehouse, 7 Thornton St., Portsmouth, N. H., says: "About a year ago I began to have trouble from my back and kidneys. Often a sharp catch darted through my body and became so bad that I could hardly move. There was also a dull, throbbing ache across my loins and the kidney secretions were highly colored and contained sediment. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Phillips' Pharmacy corrected my trouble and I have had no return attack."

LOCAL COMPANY LEADS COUNTRY AT TARGET PRACTICE

New Hampshire Coast Artillery Corps First With Twelve Inch Guns and Second With Six Inch.

The New Hampshire Coast Artillery Corps made a great reputation with the big gun practice during their last encampment here at Fort Stark, and have the honor of leading the entire country for work with the twelve inch guns, and landing in second place with the six inch guns.

This information comes from circular No. 7, issued by the War Department office of Chief of Staff. The circular gives the tables of the work of all coast artillery reserves of the organized service for the practice of 1912, and it is issued by Major General Leonard Wood, U. S. A.

By these tables the first company of this city, Captain F. T. Harriman, led the country with the twelve inch guns, at a range of 5,326 yards, three hits were made out of three shots, and with a figure of merit mark of 105.30. The third company of Dover, Captain A. B. Foss, at a range of 5,283 yards, made two hits out of three shots, but they were slower and their figure of merit was but 35.93.

The other two companies were on the six inch batteries and they gained second place. The Fourth Company, of Laconia, Captain C. C. Crowley, at a range of 3,080 yards made two hits out of four shots with figure of merit mark of 6.38. The second company of Exeter, Captain W. W. Moore, at a range of 3,290 yards scored two hits out of four shots and with a merit mark of 6.52.

The record of the four companies is something to be proud of, considering the short time the companies have been at this branch of work. Leading such states as New York and Massachusetts, which have been organized for many years. There are fifteen states, on the Atlantic, and Pacific coast having coast artillery corps.

PEACE IS MORE COSTLY THAN WAR

London, Jan. 15.—Today's meeting of the ambassadors of the European Powers at the British Foreign Office was devoted chiefly to a discussion of the means of putting a brake on the threatened resumption of the war in the Balkans.

Breathing time has been given for efforts in this direction by the decision of the plenipotentiaries of the Balkan Allies, in the course of a meeting this morning, to delay further action until the Turkish Government shall have had full opportunity for discussion of the note to be presented this week by the ambassadors of the Powers and also to reply to it.

It is quite evident that both sides would welcome the discovery of an acceptable way to avoid further fighting. The Turkish delegates argue that but for the fact that the European Powers have shown bias in favor of the claims put forward by the Balkan Allies they would have been able to compromise with their adversaries long ago.

The delegates of the Allies deny the assertion that the European Powers have raised an objection to their announced intention of breaking off the negotiations for peace and of denouncing the armistice. They point out that on Saturday last they notified Sir Edward Grey, the British Foreign Minister, and all the European Ambassadors of their intention, and none of them remonstrated.

The representatives of Bulgaria, Greece, Montenegro and Servia declare that they must protect their own interests, especially in avoiding indefinite procrastination on the part of the Turks, as since the conclusion of the armistice, in December, the maintenance of the four Allies' armies on a war footing has represented an outlay of $200,000,000, which is a heavy sacrifice for countries that are not rich. This must come to an end.

they say. Within a week Turkey must either cede Adrianople peacefully or lose it by a resumption of the war, which, in the end, would be less costly than this expensive peace.

TEACHERS' SALARIES.

There are approximately 500,000 teachers in the public schools of the United States, more than three-fifths of whom are women. The average salary paid these teachers is less than the average wage of twenty trades. In other words, compensation for training future citizens of this country is less than payment for the production of products, tools, utensils and articles of ordinary consumption. This fact, noted by a celebrated Swiss publicist and economist, is made by him the basis for severe criticism of our public school system.

There is no doubt whatever that our public school system largely depends on the character and equipment of teachers employed. Higher education and training are expensive and the money expended for them represents so much capital invested. The average teacher's salary is not adequate return on such capital invested. Consequently the public schools cannot command men and women best equipped for giving instruction and training to pupils. As the result our public schools are not what they should be, as agencies for the preparation of boys and girls for the active duties of citizenship.

It is as impossible to get something for nothing in the public schools as it is anywhere else. This is constantly being pointed out by school superintendents and directors. Demonstration of the fact is as conclusive as it should be to compel the people of this country to give more attention to the real wants and needs of their schools. Good citizens are of vastly more importance than good products of mills, factories and shops.—Williamsport "Globe."

BOWLING

Good Bowling in Three Men League

There was some exceptionally good bowling in the Three Men's League on Wednesday evening at the Arcade alleys. Three men went over the three century mark and all the others were going along at a good rate. Jack Renner was high for the evening with 328 for a three string, and his 113 was also high single.

In the first match team No. 1 and team No. 2 broke even on points. The former getting the last string and the total and No. 3 getting the first and second string, the second being 316 which is very fine work.

In the second match team No. 2 defeated team No. 4 by three points.

IT IS A STROKE OF ECONOMY

To equip your furnace with a "furnace connection." The heat used in heating your rooms may also be utilized in furnishing you with hot water.

The cost of installing a furnace connection is nominal—the plan of operation perfect.

OUR PLAN

We run a pipe over the fire pot of the furnace—from furnace to radiator; in the kitchen from radiator to boiler, giving you heat and hot water and you have but one fire to watch—the furnace.

This gives you the advantage of using your gas range throughout the year, and saves you the labor of carrying coal and emptying ashes.

See Your Plumber or Us for Particulars.

It's a money saver for you.

BURLEIGH ELECTED SENATOR IN MAINE

Progressives Came Over to Him on Second Ballot—Announces Himself a Progressive Republican.

State House, Augusta, Me., Jan. 15.—Hon. Edwin C. Burleigh, Rep., was elected United States Senator this afternoon on the joint ballot of the Senate and House of Representatives without one vote to spare. To be elected Mr. Burleigh needed 91 votes and that was his total on the ballot.

The vote of the two branches was: Whole number cast 150, necessary for a choice 81, Edwin C. Burleigh 91, Obadiah Gardner, Dem. 52, E. M. Thompson, Prog., 7. Six Republicans and one Democrat voted for Judge E. M. Thompson.

Mr. Burleigh succeeded in heading all but two of the Republican representatives who voted for him yesterday. Two Progressives, Alton H. Wheeler and William A. Cochran, deserted the Republican nominee today, but those two were the only Progressives who could be induced to join the alliance between the Democrats and Progressives. Progressive leaders were unable to get the other Republican vote necessary to prevent the election of Mr. Burleigh by maintaining a deadlock.

The Democrats and Progressives had expected to deprive Mr. Burleigh of three votes by declaring the seats of Representatives Taylor, Mitchell and Sturgis vacant, because they held United States offices. Representative Smith of Patton, a regular Republican, made a lengthy speech and made it impossible to reach a vote on the question of expelling the three Republicans before the time fixed for the ballot for United States Senator. By these tactics Mr. Burleigh was saved from defeat.

After he was declared elected by the scant majority of one, Mr. Burleigh appeared before the Senate and House and proclaimed himself a Progressive Republican. In a speech of acceptance he declared himself in favor of woman suffrage, the direct election of United States Senators, the initiative and referendum and every Progressive policy except the recall.

The Senator-elect expressed the highest esteem for Senator Charles F. Johnson and said he and his Democratic colleague could work harmoniously in Washington except where their personal convictions might differ.

CRUISER DENVER TO PROTECT AMERICANS

Washington, Jan. 15.—The cruiser Denver has been ordered from San Diego, Cal., to Acapulco, Mex., where a desperate situation is reported, with Americans in danger.

She will sail tomorrow and should arrive at the Mexican port in about four days. Commander Thomas Washington has about 250 bluejackets aboard, and about a company of marines.

This Government's decision to send a warship to protect American lives and property was reached early today after alarming reports of the activity of a rebel band under Julio Ballin had been received through Ambassador Wilson at Mexico City. Consul Edwards at Acapulco had suggested that inasmuch as the Mexican Federalists were unable to protect Americans, and the Mexican commander of the town had admitted his inability to reinforce the garrison, a warship should be sent.

The last report from Acapulco said Ballin's men were operating in the country about there and that refugees from every direction were pouring into the town, which is one of the most important Mexican ports on the Pacific. Denunciations and atrocities to the approaching rebels band were reported.

Americans and other foreigners will be taken aboard the Denver when she reaches there, if they so desire. The Denver is the nearest ship to the danger line.

TRANSPORTATION IN ALASKA

The transportation of freight in the country around Nome, Alaska, is carried on with considerable difficulty in both summer and winter. In winter, of course, it is a problem of snow, and sleds are used, some of which are drawn by horses as well as dogs. The typical forward or lead sled carries a load of three tons. The big-wheeled "spider" is used for hauling heavy pieces of the machinery across the marshy country around Nome in the summer time. This vehicle, which carries its load swung under the rear axle, has a capacity of twenty-five tons. The rear wheels are eight feet in diameter, and have a rim two feet wide. The axle is four inches in diameter. The ground in the vicinity of Nome is so soft and spongy that a narrow wheeled wagon would break through the surface, but this spider rolls over leaving scarcely a mark and is comparatively easy to draw. The small front wheels carry practically no weight.—Popular Mechanics.

CHICAGO ANTI-CRIME CRUSADE.

Ten Thousands Arrests Are Expected on Vagrancy Charges in 48 Hours.

Chicago, Jan. 15.—Officials at detective headquarters are preparing for a crusade against "crooks" with a known police record which is expected to result in 10,000 arrests on vagrancy warrants. Detectives were ordered to prepare today lists of all thieves known to them, from the "high class" bank sneak to the ordinary doorman thief. Not only the names, but the general habits and "hangout" of the thieves are to be included in the lists.

One pair of detectives last night prepared a list of 680 thieves known to them. Allowing for duplications it is expected that the 100 detectives at the bureau will furnish at least 300 names each. Warrants will be placed in the hands of the detectives with instructions to have the crooks locked up within forty-eight hours if possible. The move was decided upon because of the crime wave which has swept over the city during the last few weeks.

Sagamore Lodge, No. 11, K. O. U. W. of Massachusetts will install its officers tomorrow, Friday, evening in G. A. R. hall, No. 1 Daniel street, followed by a collation. Let all brothers arrive to be present. Brothers of the order invited.

INTERESTING DIVORCE FIGURES

New York, Jan. 15.—More than 70,000 children, mostly under the age of 10 years, were deprived of one or both parents by divorce in this country in the past year, according to figures with which Rev. Francis M. Moody, stirred members of the New York Marriage and Divorce Commission at its meeting yesterday.

"The Pacific Coast," he said, "has been the greatest divorce center of the entire world. In the year 1912 alone there were granted in the United States over 100,000 divorces. In 40 years 3,700,000 adults were separated by divorce, and more than 5,000,000 persons were affected by these cases. Illinois alone provided 120,000 divorces, California 60,000, and New York 44,450.

"New York state, however, sent 18,100 of its couples into other states to procure divorces, and there were probably many migratory cases that are not recorded in this total. At present 90 per cent of the cases go by default, with only one party represented."

Mr. Moody offered a resolution to organize a Federal commission in this state to work for a uniform Federal law governing marriage and divorce, which should be the central organization for all state commissions of this character, which have already been formed in some states, and which would meet in convention in Chicago in May.

Rev. Dr. Samuel McCone Lindsay was appointed temporary chairman of an organizing committee.

AN INNOVATION AT LHASA

A member of the Dalai Lama's household has lately acquired in India a complete cinematograph outfit, and is going to have it installed at Lhasa. The moving pictures will doubtless cause a sensation in the holy city, but the Tibetans are not likely to regard the new machine as anything supernatural. They are, as a matter of fact, no strangers to western inventions. When the Young-Lambert Mission entered Lhasa eight years ago they found in the large houses of the wealthy inhabitants (extraordinarily in need of a spring cleaning) all kinds of European conveniences, upholstered furniture, and even gramophones.—Manchester Guardian.
